AN EVENING OF ENTERTAINMENT

SEASON 12

2021.2022

| INNERchamber Ensemble

19 September 2021

At a time of year when even the full light of day begins to lose its heat, the fire and the stories we tell ourselves to remember draw us home to each other. This concert, centred around Robert Schumann's enigmatic Fantasiestücke, comforts us and welcomes us home like a favourite blanket with remembrances of home and stories of far off places.

| Glynis Ranney singer and actor
Michael Nadajewski singer and actor
INNERchamber Ensemble

13 February 2022

Kindness is courage, kindness is trust, kindness is truth. It's easy to dismiss kindness as a dream or the naive province of fools, but it truly is the work of heroes. Enjoy songs and stories of kindness, curated by Glynis Ranney and Michael Nadajewski and arranged by Ben Bolt-Martin.

| Dayna Manning voice and guitar
INNERchamber String Quartet

3 April 2022

The American story has captured the world's imagination. Even if tarnished by American fact, behind the muddy reality lies a golden thread that has been the foundation for masterpieces in countless forms the world over. This concert reflects and refracts the light of that golden idea through the kaleidoscope of what might have been and what may still yet be.

| Marion Adler actor
Scott Wentworth actor
INNERchamber Ensemble

21 November 2021

While we may never know what happened behind closed doors, the letters between Clara Schumann and Johannes Brahms reveal everything that we need to know about their intimacy. Woven between movements of their music, Marion Adler and Scott Wentworth present, in words penned over a lifetime, the story of love, plain and simple.

| INNERchamber String Quartet

6 March 2022

With motion born of a perfectly balanced energy, the current of time swirls and dances in the hands of three remarkable composers. Jessie Montgomery's Strum tumbles fluidly down an icy cool ravine. Kevin Lau collects from the fertile tributaries of the Renaissance, the Far East, and heavy metal to create a wild and winding musical identity. Maurice Ravel's String Quartet mirrors the ebb and flow, the storm and calm of the life-giving ocean.

| Graham Hargrove percussion
Kevin Ramessar guitar
Joe Phillips bass

15 May 2022

Common ground is the starting point for musical fusion. Graham Hargrove, bassist Joe Phillips and guitarist Kevin Ramessar not only share a passion for music, but also a longtime friendship. Using J.S. Bach's Goldberg Variations as a starting point, these three incredibly flexible musicians will tackle the theme of connection.
